Profile:

Dr. Smita Dipankar is a consultant anaesthesiologist with an experience of more than 23+ years in this profession.

She is also a Certified health and wellness consultant who is passionately working with many families guiding them to achieve optimal health.

She found her passion as a life coach for teenagers during her daughter's teenage journey. The heartfelt connection she felt for every teenager and the happiness she experienced while guiding & supporting teenagers & their parents, lead her to become India's first TeenWisdom.inc certified life coach for teen girls. She has a knack for being a teenager's best friend and many teen boys and girls trust and rely on her to seek solutions or simply talk to her to share their problems. Dr. Smita's belief in teenagers and her love for them, makes her the best teen life coach. Her passion and vision to make a difference in every teenager's life are reflected in her work.

She is the founder & CEO of Forevermagicalteens™ where she provides exclusive coaching programs and workshops that contribute to this passion of hers. She is on a MISSION to "Simplifying Teenage for every teen and their families".

She along with her daughter founded the 1st teen club for girls in India named Forevermagicalteens™ club, which is a safe space where teen girls can meet, talk, share, support & enjoy being themselves without being judged.

She is the author of the book "Simplifying teenage" which is an easy and powerful practical guide to simplify the teenage journey exclusively for teenagers, parents, grandparents, teachers, coaches and everyone who knows a teenager.

She hosts "The Simplifying teenage podcast", a podcast for teenagers where she shares simple practices, techniques and wisdom that can make teenage more fun and magical.

Dr. Smita along with her two friends are Co-founders of Skillistaan™, an online platform for every girl & woman, to collaborate & form a Community of Expertise in different fields to upgrade their Life skills.

Internationally certified as an Ho'opono pono and EFT healer, she works with women to support them to heal and release their past, hidden or unknown traumas and live a happy, successful and peaceful life.

Smita is a fun-loving person with an aura of an angel. Anybody who comes near her would immediately get comfortable with her. She has a knack for being not only a teenager's best friend, but also of their parents. She is a package of happiness along with hard work and dedication when needed. If you ever need anyone to talk to or share your problems with, then she is the one who'll be there always!
